

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1911.

Published every week-day afternoon.
Subscriptions: One year, $3.00; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending last Saturday was copies, the largest circulation of any daily paper in Vermont outside of Burlington.

5,700

The ties of families make Goddard seminary the richer now and then. There are still many cousins left.

Judge E. H. Gary is right: Barre granite will greatly improve the appearance of his new mansion on Fifth avenue, London. Who's next?

W. E. D. Stokes of New York is a lucky man, for with two women peppering away at him for ten minutes or so with revolvers they might have hit a vital spot.

Increased interest in the women's clubs of Vermont means great betterment of the state if they all do as well as the members of the Barre Civic Federation of Women's Clubs has done for many years. A great many improvements about Barre are to be laid at the door of the members of this federation.

After two trials in Caledonia county court, two hearings in Vermont supreme court and the beginning of a third in county court, the litigants in an alienation action got together and settled the case out of court. Fine result, and finer if they had got together before Vermont had been forced to spend so much money on the case.

The Roosevelt banquet at White River Junction was a splendid lesson in financial management, or rather how not to manage—they came out $400 in the hole. It is said that five dollars a platter was not an attractive proposition. Recognition of the fact that such a price is too much to ask the average Vermonter to pay for a single meal, of no matter how many courses, the projectors of a big banquet in Burlington propose to put the price at one dollar and a half per plate, which is a reasonable charge.

As the only original Rough Rider in Vermont, Wallace N. Batchelder of Bethel becomes the confidant of the Rough Rider colonel, Theodore Roosevelt, and naturally the spokesman for the colonel in matters political while in Vermont. Rough Rider Batchelder, therefore, divulged to the world that Roosevelt would not be a candidate for president of the United States in 1912, which nearly everyone suspected before Rough Rider Batchelder made it known. It was not strikingly new information, merely corroborative; and as such was of little consequence.

BARRE'S PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS

Barre's school department is fortunate in being able to command the services of nearly the same corps of teachers for the coming year as have served during the year just drawing to a close, as noted by the list which was published yesterday; and in the case of resignations it has been possible to secure teachers of experience, some of whom have previously taught in the Barre public schools. A school system is badly arranged when there is necessity for frequent changes in the teaching force, as new teachers require considerable time to get acquainted with the policies of the system and consequently there is not the immediate smoothness of administration which goes with continuity of service. This is especially true of the high school, in which the work of the four years is more closely allied than in the grades where essentially new work is taken up in going from a lower to a higher grade. Such being the case, the people of Barre should look forward to a successful year with the opening of the fall term next September.

THE COLLEGE GYMNASIUM.

Bowdoin college in Maine is striving to complete a fund of $100,000 with which to build a splendid gymnasium. It wasn't many years ago when such an effort would have been looked upon as very foolish, waste of money, in fact, on an unimportant side of collegiate life. However, views of physical culture have changed radically during the last generation. Perhaps the pendulum has swung too far the other way; but its so, the proper balance will be restored in due season. It is recognized now that the college has as much of a duty to develop the physical man as to train the mental man, and the college which takes steps for that work is the institution which has a well-rounded college training. So Bowdoin is trying to raise the money which shall enable it, not primarily to turn out winning athletic teams but to develop the bodies of all the students of the institution—an illustration of the somewhat hackneyed expression, "It was the same spirit which caused the university of Vermont to build a home for physical culture some years ago, the same spirit which is actuating Middlebury college in erecting a gymnasium. Likewise, Dartmouth college felt the same need, with the result that the Hanover institution has a monster structure which can be used for nearly every branch of athletics and sports. The progressive college is taking, or has taken, active steps toward looking after the physical training of its students.

What is the Answer?

"If we 'stand pat' in Congress, must we not also 'stand pat' in Vermont to be entirely consistent? Or shall we be progressive at home and do our standing pat wholly in the national capital?"—Burlington Free Press.

The Vermont delegation in Congress is respectfully requested to answer this question.—St. Albans Messenger.

Could you expect our delegation to take a stand on any serious question? That is one reason for the world calling Vermont decadent. Our public men are afraid of their own shadows and Vermont has always followed the politicians who represent the interests. How much better to be an independent farmer driving his own team, than to represent the people in dumb show in Congress following Aldrich and Gallinger. It is better to occasionally be wrong—according to the farmer—and lose an election, than take no independent part in Congress.

But, to the original question. We who remain at home must keep up the propaganda of advancement, of improvement, to conduct a real democracy where every man is treated like every other man—with no favored classes and no rich oligarchy by favor of legislation.—Burlington News.

APPENDICITIS

Cured Without Operation. Here is Sworn Proof!

STATE OF MINNESOTA, ss.
COUNTY OF STEELE.
I, Richard Jahreiss, of Owatonna, Minn., being first duly sworn, do say that I am the person named in and who subscribed the following statement and the same is true of my own knowledge, in every particular: "I had severe pains in my right side, just above the Appendix. I went to the doctor and he pronounced my case Appendicitis and advised an operation. Instead I went to Zamboni Bros. Drug Store and bought a bottle of (Adler-i-ka) Treatment. After taking it the result was indeed wonderful. The pains stopped and I felt like a new man. I heartily recommend (Adler-i-ka) Treatment to anyone troubled with Appendicitis, as I know it has cured me."

(Signed) RICHARD H. JAHREISS.
Subscribed and sworn to before me June 29, 1905.
J. NEWSALT, Notary Public, Steele County.

Appendicitis is becoming worse and worse, and everyone should know of this wonderful successful treatment. A valuable book, showing many pictures of that curious and little known organ, the human Appendix, and telling how Appendicitis is caused, how it can be treated without operation, and how you can easily guard yourself against it, will be given FREE to anyone calling at our store.
